

We have completed the initial review of your 2011-12 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). It has been determined that your FAFSA is incomplete. Before we can continue verifying your financial aid, you must fill in all missing information on your FAFSA application by making a correction. Once you have updated your FAFSA, please complete this form and return it to the Financial Aid Office.

PROCESSING OF YOUR AID HAS STOPPED UNTIL YOUR FAFSA IS CORRECTED AND THIS FORM IS RETURNED

Please follow the steps below to correct your FAFSA:

1. Refer to your Student Aid Report (SAR) for details on what is missing on your FAFSA. You may access your SAR at www.fafsa.gov. (The SAR is sent to the address listed on FAFSA or e-mailed)
2. Log onto www.fafsa.gov to make a correction to your 2011-12 FAFSA.
3. Make necessary corrections, provide student and parent (if dependent) PIN numbers to electronically sign the application, and submit correction. PIN's can be accessed at www.pin.ed.gov.
4. Return this form to the Financial Aid Office.

Common missing information includes:

- Missing parent's information for student who was determined by FAFSA to be dependent.
- Asset and/or investment information missing on FAFSA

Statement of Certification: I certify that the information given on this form is true and complete.
