

NWTC Library Resources

... for your transcribed credit courses

Searching for Resources

When you are not sure what resource you need, start by using our Library Search tool.

Discovering

Use the search box on the Library home page at <https://www.nwtc.edu/Student-Experience/Library>

Type in your keywords and click Search.

You can use the filters on the left side to focus your results to just items that are available online, are a certain format, are in a specific date range, or are on specific subjects/topics.

This makes it easy to find online videos from the last 5 years on anatomy, for example.

You can also use the Advanced Search option to set those criteria before you search.

From the results list, just click on the titles of resources that you would like to access.

Logging In

When you try to open one of the Library's online resources, you will be asked to login once during each session (to confirm that you are affiliated with the College).

Sometimes you will be asked for your NWTC ID number and password. In Library Search, you may be asked for your first or last name and your NWTC ID number.

If you cannot find your ID number and password, contact the NWTC Help Desk at Help.Desk@nwtc.edu or 920-498-6800.

Going Directly to Popular Resources

If you already know which online resource you want to access, you can go to directly to <https://www.nwtc.edu/Student-Experience/Library/Resource-List>

You will see subject and alphabetical lists of our online resources. Check out:

- Films on Demand (40,000 online videos)
- Ebook Central (160,000 ebooks)
- Opposing Viewpoints (articles on controversial issues)
- SIRS Researcher (articles on current issues)
- ProQuest (our largest resource for articles)
- EBSCO (articles and ebooks)
- Safari Technology (online books and videos about technology)
- Culture Grams (information on cultures and countries)
- Encyclopedia Britannica (online encyclopedia)
- and more!

Logging In

You will be asked to login when you start your session with these resources.

Library Guide for You and Your Students

For more information, visit <http://nwtc.libguides.com/hscredit>